FlexRadio Systems Appoints Matt Youngblood President & CEO

Austin, Texas – March 1, 2022: FlexRadio Systems, a global leader in software defined radio and HF communications, announced today that Mr. Matt Youngblood has been appointed President & Chief Executive Officer of the company.

A long-time employee of FlexRadio and an experienced business leader, Matt will succeed Gerald Youngblood and assume responsibilities on March 1, 2022. Gerald Youngblood will assume the role of Chairman providing leadership guidance throughout the transition.

Matt started with FlexRadio in January 2008 and has managed various functions in the company over the years including sales, business development, marketing, operations, finance and even user interface design for FlexRadio products.

“Matt is the right leader for FlexRadio,” said Gerald Youngblood, Chairman of FlexRadio. “Matt’s passion for our business and our customers creates an opportunity to lend a fresh vision and purpose to the next chapter in FlexRadio’s history.”

Matt received his B.A. in Business Management from Texas A&M University in 2007 and his M.B.A. from Baylor University in 2013, graduating top of his class.
